Our annual exercises were held on Friday, May 28, so as not to interfere with exercises in our nearby towns. The committee in the early morning began the program by visiting and decorating the graves of veterans of the several wars in the Davis, Cram, Hawkins, Merrill, Canney Hill, Morse and Bean cemeteries, where after the decorating service taps was sounded in each case by Bugler Elmer Huntress. At the Merrill yard the pupils of the West Center Harbor School gave a short program in charge of their teacher, Mrs. Elena B. C. Smith.

After the service at the Bean Cemetery, the committee and bugler and school children marched to Pleasant View Cemetery escorted by the Center Harbor Band and these decorated the graves of four Civil War veterans.. After taps there the procession marched to Lampreys Hall where a program consisting of the Gettysburg Address by Miss Marion Hubbard, a fine program by the village school pupils who showed much and thorough training by the teachers.

Rev. Frederic Balcom was the speaker and gave a scholarly, stirring and concise address to the veterans and an earnest plea for the help of the nation to aid in repairing the ravages of the terrible World War just passed. The program closed with the singing of America by the audience, accompanied by the band, after which the committee and bugler went to the Senter yard to conclude the day's program.

Wilbur L. White, chairman; Lillian M. Hanson; Charles P. Jameson, secretary; Moderator, Orville P. Smith; clerk, Frank H. Morse; treasurer, Albert E. Hutchins; auditors, Edgar W. Smith, Charles A. Leighton; truant officer, George S. McCrillis.

The following report brings to a close another school year, and in presenting our report it seems unnecessary to say much regarding the management of the schools themselves, as no doubt these subjects will be fully covered by the report of our Superintendent.

However, under the management of your School Board, the schools of the town have been maintained during the year with average interest and efficiency. The conscientious and faithful work of Supt. Buker has been of great value. The choice and general direction of the teachers, the selection of supplies, the discipline, even of the schools, is largely committed to him, and in all these lines he has exercised tact and good judgment. We believe the schools are improving under his supervision. Perplexing and troublesome problems occasionally occur. As a means of grace for those who have to do with schools, we have not been utterly free from anxious thought all the year, yet we have endeavored to solve difficulties so as to promote the best results. Of the courtesy, consideration and loyal support I have received during the past two years from the other members of the school board, teachers, pupils and citizens, I cannot speak in too high praise, and the memories will be pleasant.

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the Members of the School Board and Citizens of Center Harbor:

It is a privilege to submit my second annual report to the School Board and Citizens of Center Harbor. For within the past twelve months many progressive steps have been taken toward raising the educational standards of the district.

Your superintendent recommended a year ago that in order to induce the best trained teachers to remain in the profession and particularly in the rural schools we must provide not only a living wage, but a thrift and cultural wage. This the district has endeavored to do in all three schools, altho we must always be prepared to increase the salaries of the teachers who continue to grow in the profession, until the supply equals to the demand. We are still short in this country 80,000 teachers and a large per cent of the remaining 570,000 are not capable of meeting the demands of the times. Four million, or 20 per cent of the pupils in the United States are being instructed by teachers under 21 years of age. Center Harbor has been very fortunate this year in having teachers of experience and maturity. May we adopt such a policy for the teacher is the most important factor in our educational system.

At the village Mrs. Hazel Smith remained with us for another year and Mrs. Elena Smith was again secured at West Center Harbor. At the Town House Ruth Strafford, a graduate of Plymouth Normal School, was secured.

B. Current events, civics, music, elementary algebra.

A subjects are those usually taught each day.

B and C subjects are usually given two or three times a week.

From the above requirements one can easily understand the amount that we have spent for textbooks and supplies. Furthermore it is necessary that rural teachers have a more complete list than in a room of one grade where the teacher has far more time to present the work. Then again the selling price of both textbooks and supplies has doubled and in some cases increased 150 per cent during the past three years. Also as required by the State Board all pupils have individual drinking cups, toweling and toilet paper is supplied in the school.

Our floors have been sprayed with sanitary oil and disinfectants used about the buildings. Parents and citizens who have recently visited the schools have been well pleased with such marked improvements along these sanitary lines.

Tests.

In the four upper grades pupils have been formally tested each term in the fundamental subjects by standard and original written examinations. Thereby requiring from both teachers and pupils standards as high as any other schools in the district in the state. In other words pupils leaving our schools will be admitted to the same grade in any other public school in the state. In the lower grades standard tests in reading have been given with fair results.

Medical Inspection.

Our pupils were again examined by Dr. Morrill, assisted by Mrs. Hanscom. Already we can see general improvement in the health of our pupils. Parents are having the physical defects removed, such as having the eyes, ears and throats treated by specialists. It is hoped that more of the parents will realize the need of this particular phase of education. Pupils are known to have accomplished from 50 to 100 per cent better mental work by having these physical defects removed. A weak body usually means a weak mind.

Number of pupils examined	45
Number of pupils with defective teeth	21
Number of pupils with hypertrophied tonsils	5
Number of pupils unvaccinated	3
Number of pupils with defective vision	16
Number of pupils with defective hearing	1

Repairs.

At the village school the toilet conditions were in very bad shape and so after careful consideration by the School Board and superintendent it was decided to purchase three chemical closets for the two rooms. Altho the initial cost was a little more than repairing the former out-houses it was deemed wise to protect the health of our pupils. These toilets are connected with the main rooms and are properly heated. They are proving very satisfactory.

At the Town House School Building the lighting was changed and increased to meet the standard requirements. If the district should desire to continue a school here another year chemical closets should be installed, and more wood shed space is needed.

The building of the Center Harbor Schoolhouse does not come under the head of repairs. However, I will state here that this building is one of the most up-to-date rural school buildings in this part of the state. The committee on building of this school house has made in this Town Report a full and itemized account concerning the construction of the same.

Consolidation of Schools.

A year ago I suggested to the School Board that it carefully consider the advisability of continuing the Town House School. After thoroughly analyzing the situation pros and cons, it was thought wise to have a school here the present year. As it is costing the district again much more per pupil in the other schools of the district ($140 per pupil per year) I believe that the small number of pupils should be transported either to the village or to Meredith. This could be done at a saving of at least from $300 to $400 per year. Further three of these pupils will probably be ready for Junior High School in September if their parents should decide to send them at a cost of $36 per pupils per year to the district. The cost to put this building into shape would be from $700 to $900.

Red Cross.

The Center Harbor School District has been more fortunate than most districts in having an active Red Cross Association which is actually doing something for its own community. This Association has placed the School Lunch management on such a sound pedagogical and economical basis that the system has been recognized by the State Supervisor of Health, Mrs. Hazel Smith, the grammar school teacher has been asked to prepare a detailed article for the New Hampshire Teacher's Magazine. Furthermore, equipment has been given to the other two schools by this association. For the second time your superintendent wishes to thank the members of this organization for its co-operation in promoting such aggressive policies.

TOWN OF CENTER HARBOR

The Center Harbor Grange.

School gardens have now become a part of the regular school program. And so last spring a fair per cent of the pupils planted gardens under the supervision of the teachers and parents. In the autumn a school exhibit was held at the Grange Hall. The Grange deserves much credit for the success of this fair for it gave a free supper to all the pupils and teachers of the town, besides awarding the prize winners real cash for their efforts. Such co-operation is very helpful and educational for the boys and girls of our community and is greatly appreciated by the Board and superintendent.

Our Normal Schools

In order that the state may be provided with a more efficient corps of teachers each town must contribute its share of students to these schools. In other words Center Harbor should have in two schools, one at Keene and the other at Plymouth, at least two students. The graduates of these schools are all receiving excellent positions. You, who have girls graduating from our high schools should consider the many opportunities offered by these Normal Schools.

In conclusion, I believe that Center Harbor did more for its future citizens within the past twelve months than ever before in the same length of time. Certainly it has cost more than ever before but what business man or farmer has been able to carry on his financial affairs on the same amount as in previous years? Has it paid? What would this community be without its schools? I wish to thank the School Board, Parents, Citizens and Teachers for their hearty co-operation.

TOWN OF CENTER HARBOR

The New School Building

At the annual meeting of the School District held at the Town House, March 16, 1920, the request of the School Board for authority to select and purchase a suitable lot of land and erect a new school house to take the place of the old Hawkins school house at the West end of the town, met with a hearty response, and the Board was authorized to select and purchase land and erect thereon a modern school building.

It was later voted to add to the School Board a committee of three to act in conjunction with them, and Loui L. Sanborn, Willard E. Huntress and George D. McCrillis were nominated and elected, making a building committee of six.

On March 30, this committee met at the High School Building in Meredith, for organization, and elected C. P. Jameson, chairman, and George D. McCrillis, clerk, and after due consideration of the duty before them, it was deemed wise to obtain plans and specifications of a building to meet the requirements of the State Board of Education and one that could be used as a one or two room school house and capable of being easily converted into a community building should occasion require.

In view of the extremely high cost of construction, the idea of the composite building was abandoned as entailing too heavy a burden on the town at this time.

Plans and specifications (in triplicate) were obtained from Harold E. Mason of Keene, N. H., and the committee endeavored in several directions to obtain a contract price from some reputable builder, but owing to the very uncertain condition of labor and the building material markets at the time, no one could be found willing to name a figure.

Under the above conditions the committee decided to purchase the necessary building materials at lowest prices obtainable and to put the work in charge of approved master mechanics.

After due deliberation it was decided to employ Willard E. Huntress to take charge of the mason work, and James P. Leighton (both of our town) to do the carpentering work on the actual labor cost plan, without percentage or commission charge.

Several locations were considered at prices ranging from one hundred to three hundred dollars for a lot 150x300 feet, and the committee was finally unanimous in choosing the parcel at the southeast corner of O. P. Smith's land, which is about midway between the old Hawkins school house and the Coxboro school house in West Holderness.

The wisdom of this selection has been very manifest, as the Holderness School Board has decided to close their Coxboro school and send their pupils to our new school house, paying us tuition, bringing the town a revenue of about $300 per year.

The lot is 150 feet front and 300 feet deep, affording ample playgrounds for the boys and girls for their respective pastimes at recess. We think you will all agree that the location is ideal.

The work of excavating was begun May 31st, and it was expected to go right ahead with the work of construction, but owing to other engagements, our masons did not begin work until Aug. 23.

The carpenters began erecting the superstructure Sept. 14, and plastering was finished Oct. 13.

Carpenters resumed work of finishing up Nov. 9, and left the work practically completed Nov. 18, leaving one man to finish up the odds and ends.

Inside painting and varnishing was completed Nov. 22, and the building was ready for occupancy at the close of the December holidays.

Suitable dedication exercises were observed Dec. 27. The Commissioner of Education, Edwin C. Butterfield, delivering the principal address.

The keys of the building were handed to the Moderator of the school district, who, in turn, handed them with suitable words of admonition, to the School Board.

We invite your inspection of this up-to-date elementary school building, and think you will agree that it is the product of thorough and efficient workmanship, and we will always feel that we have done our duty to the parents of children of this community for this and future generations.

We append a full report of cost of construction, giving every detail of material and labor, and if the total sum appears large; please bear in mind that we were forced to build during a period when prices of material and labor were at the topmost peak.
